

Connor Miko is a Marketing Associate at the Institute for Energy Research. In his role, Connor contributes to the creation of communications materials, supports the fostering of external relationships, and monitors organizational performance metrics. Prior to his role with IER, Connor served as a Utilities Analyst with the State Corporation Commission and completed a legislative internship on Capitol Hill. He holds a B.A. in Economics and B.S. in Psychology from Virginia Tech